

Management Systems Certification

Your performance – certified to the highest standards

WHO we are

ABS Quality Evaluations (ABS OE) is a global leader, accredited in management systems services. At ABS OE, we believe that while certifications are standard, all our clients have unique challenges and objectives. One of the benefits of working with ABS OE is that we focus on our customers' challenges and customize our services to achieve your specific goals, in addition to auditing your organization to management systems standards.

ABS OE is headquartered in Houston, Texas, USA, and has local offices worldwide. Wherever you are located, in as many locations as you need, our experienced team of auditors will work with you to realize the benefits of certified performance. From audits and assessments to certification or training, ABS OE offers a full range of services to help your organization obtain the maximum value from your management systems.

Accredited Management System Certification (Third Party Audit Services)

ABS OE is accredited to certify your management system to the following standards:

- ISO 9001
- AS 9003
- AS 9100
- AS 9120
- ISO 14001

WHAT we do

Internal Audits (First Party Audit Services)

Internal audits may uncover gaps and possible actions that can result in significant performance improvements for your organization. ABS OE's experienced auditors focus their internal auditing efforts based upon your management system procedures and protocols in order to conduct their audits in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

Note: Internal audit services can be provided only to organizations whose management systems that have not been certified by ABS OE.

Second Party Assessments (Second Party Audit Services)

Issues with supply chain vendor performance can have a significant negative impact on your brand, bottom line and corporate image. ABS OE uses its experience in certification programs that meet or exceed international accreditation standards to work with your organization, understand your needs and requirements to develop and implement a vendor qualification program that aligns with your organization's goals.

Management System Training Courses

To obtain the most value from a management system, an organization needs a solid understanding of the principles behind the system as well as the tools and methods of proper implementation of the system. ABS OE conducts RAB OSA, and IRCA registered and non-registered management system training courses, including Awareness Training, Internal Auditor Training and Lead Auditor Training.
